At first glance, San Gimignano, Italy, looks much as it must have more than 700 years ago, thanks to amazingly preserved medieval architecture and fortified walls. This small, romantic town, perched on a hill in Tuscany's Siena province, has 14 surviving medieval towers that create a unique skyline visible from the surrounding countryside. Tourism officials say there were originally 72 towers, probably built by aristocratic families to demonstrate their wealth and power. The walled city is tucked above rolling Tuscan hills covered with sunflowers, olive groves and grapevines.

While driving Tour Director will be in touch with guest by a powerful radio system (handheld transceiver). Guest will have the opportunity to enjoy outstanding views of the famous Chianti area, driving through vineyard, olive groves, mediaeval castles and having possibility to stop taking amazing pictures (if they wish) of the beautiful landscape.

Welcome in Siena

Siena is the embodiment of a medieval city. Its inhabitants pursued their rivalry with Florence right into the area of urban planning. Throughout the centuries, they preserved their city's Gothic appearance, acquired between the 12th and 15th centuries. During this period the work of Duccio, the Lorenzetti brothers and Simone Martini was to influence the course of Italian and, more broadly, European art. The whole city of Siena, built around the Piazza del Campo, was devised as a work of art that blends into the surrounding landscape.

The Palio is the most important event in Siena, taking place on July 2 and August 16 every year. In the Palio the various Siennese "contrade", or areas in which the city is divided, challenge in other in a passionate horse race in the heart of the city in the Piazza del Campo. The 17 Contrade are: Eagle, Snail, Wave, Panther, Forest, Tortoise, Owl, Unicorn, Shell, Tower, Ram, Caterpillar, Dragon, Giraffe, Porcupine, She-Wolf, Goose. Each Contrada has its own unique emblem and colors and represents an area of the city. As one walks through the streets of Siena it is easy to know in which Contrada you currently are in by observing the flags and emblems displayed along the street. Much like street signs, corners often designate the entrance into a different Contrada with signs as the ones in the picture below.
